I recall that our virtual email service was short here? Good place to be short.

note most of all; it is at this point here, that the stocks fundamentals will probably look woeful and at this point here, where the fundamentals will show to have improved, and brokers get on the phone to clients to say BUY.

When accumulation breaks, it is telling you something; strong buying (or selling if the break is downward) quickest profits made here.

Do as I say, not do as I do; never buy here. Patience required, allow time for accumulation to take place why hold thru here? your money is doing nothing, and you are bearing all the risk should things get worse!
