

Welcome to the EIS presentation, January 24th, 2008, at the ATAA, Melbourne. Thank-you for your interest and attendance.

Economic Indicator Services is the world's foremost expert in business, real estate and commodity cycles.

It is not hard to have a reasonable idea about what markets will do each year, especially if one understands causes. If you cannot do that, then I strongly suggest you do the following:

Read the books written by my co-director of the EIS London office, Fred Harrison. These are:

The Power in the Land (1983)
The Chaos Makers (1997)
Boom / Bust (2005)

Each of the above books contained EXACT forecasts of the behaviour of the real estate market, up to 10 years in advance, and more to the point, why this would happen. This is the most important cycle to understand, especially as to how it relates to the stock market.

You should also subscribe to the EIS service. This is not at all expensive and would, I suggest, be your most profitable investment this year. Nobody in the world has the information you can find on my web site; www.businesscycles.biz
